

Kuang S. Yeh

Dr. Kuang S. Yeh is a professor of Organization Management at National Sun Yat-Sen University in Kaohsiung, Taiwan. Between May 20, 2008 and January 13, 2015, Prof. Yeh had served in the government as the Deputy Minister of Research, Development and Evaluation Commission, Deputy Minister of Transportation and Communications and Minister of Transportation and Communications. During his term as the Deputy Minister of Transportation and Communications, he also served as the founding Chairman of Taoyuan Airport Corporation.

Professor Yeh is the author of eight well-recognized general management text books (in Chinese) and more than 50 academic articles. His research has been published in journals including Harvard Business Review, American Journal of Sociology, Journal of World Business, and International Business Review. His teaching and research fields are in family business, organization management, entrepreneurship and corporate governance.

Professor Yeh have been an independent director for a number of major Taiwanese companies. He is a co-founder of Eztravel and Startravel, both are leaders in on-line travel sites in Taiwan. Between 2000 and 2001, Professor Yeh served as Chief Operations Officer for Pacific Broadband Corporation, the third largest multiple cable systems operator in Taiwan at that time.

Professor Yeh has served as Chairman at the Department of Business Management, Director of EMBA program and Director of the Graduate Institute of communication Management at National Sun Yat-Sen University at different period. Prior to joining National Sun Yat-Sen University in 1991, he held an appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor at State University of New York at Stony Brook. During the academic year of 2005, he was a Visiting Professor at Shanghai's Fudan University and Beijing's Tsinghua University. Before being a government official, Professor Yeh was a columnist for leading business journals in Taiwan such as, Commonwealth Magazine, Economic Daily News, and Commercial Times.

During his service at the government, Prof Yeh had demonstrated strong leadership capacity and completed several significant projects, including founding the Taoyuan Airport Corporation and the Taiwan International Ports Corporation, several major highways construction projects and railways upgrading projects.

Born in Hualian, Taiwan and married with two children, Professor Yeh has a BA in Political Science from National Taiwan University, an MPA from University of Delaware, and a Ph.D. in Organization Theory and Policy Analysis from Carnegie Mellon University.